

Malott Homework Set #2 Chapter 30 Jobs and Grad School

1. T/F Most traditional psychology graduate programs are incompatible with behavior analysis.
2. T/F Ivar Lovaas was a behavior analyst who worked with children labeled autistic using the predictions, theory, and philosophy of traditional psychology and traditional psychodiagnostics.
3. T/F The scientific data suggests that very few serious psychological, sociological, educational, and behavior problems can be fixed with only an hour's therapy session taking place once a week.
4. Wanting to sample the best of the traditional approaches and the best of behavior analysis and then apply what is appropriate to a particular cause is called _____.
  - a. reifications
  - b. phases
  - c. eclecticism
  - d. positive reinforcement
  - e. none of the above
5. T/F It is Malott's belief that most psychological testing does more good than harm.
6. T/F ABA stands for the Activist for Behavioral Applications
7. _____ is a good place to find information on behavioral graduate programs.

- a. ABA's website (www.abainternational.org)
- b. ABA's annual conference
- c. The teacher of this course
- d. Dick Malott (dickmalott@dickmalott.com)
- e. These are all good places for information.

8. The hardest graduate programs to get into are APA approved_____.

- a. developmental psychology programs
- b. experimental psychology programs
- c. clinical psychology programs
- d. I/O psychology programs
- e. None of the above.

9. T/F There is no way to improve a low grade point average (GPA).

10. Who provides the strongest letters of recommendation when applying to graduate school?

- a. professors
- b. family members
- c. work supervisors
- d. friends
- e. letters of recommendation are not important.

